STOP PRESS: We can confirm that Mr. Hugh Evans, CEO, The Global Poverty Project, Inc. will be a Keynote speaker at the conference. Global Poverty Project's vision is a world without extreme poverty within a generation.

Welcome to the 2nd edition of the 2011 District 9790 Conference Newsletter.

The conference theme is "Touching the Future", and we plan therefore to have an emphasis on youth, international relationships and the environment. We have looked for keynote speakers who could support this theme.

Over the last few weeks, the Program Committee have been able to lock in most of the keynote speakers as you will see below. We hope that you will agree with us that the list is impressive

George Negus - international media correspondent, and will speak on bridging continents, overpopulation and global aid assistance.

Michael McQueen is an expert on the key influences that are shaping youth culture and the mindsets of today's young people, and explores Generation Y's paradigm when it comes to work ethic, patience, loyalty, respect and communication.

Robyn Treyvaud will speak on Cyber safety, the power & pitfalls of internet communication and youth distraction.

Prof Douglas Hilton, Director, Walter Eliza Hall Medical Institute. He will be speaking on malaria, breast cancer and third world health issues.

Further, we have asked each of the 9 Assistant Governors to prepare a short presentation of a selection of the projects being undertaken in their Group. We are confident that it will inform the conference delegates of the wide level of activity in District 9790.

Sports Day Dinner:

We can announce the Guest Speaker for the Sports Day Dinner will be Raelene Boyle, AM, MBE.

Raelene represented Australia at three Olympic Games as a sprinter, winning three silver medals, and at Commonwealth games where she won five gold medals.

Her achievements also include being inducted into the Australian Sporting Hall of Fame in 1985.

Raelene is a Board Member of the Breast Cancer Network Australia and is a patron of both the Sunshine Coast's Cancer Care Centres and the Living Trees Program
